Theater Folk Are Superstitious.

Theatrical people are proverbially actress who never goes on the stage without first crossing herself to insure in vogue in other countries. good luck. Some of our greatest stars would perhaps retire from the stage if they should lose the horseshoe which is nailed to the lid of one of their trunks, and could not get another. Mrs. Leslie Carter always raps three times on the wings before walking on the stage, and she thinks this precaution will banish all evil influences. When Mary Anderson was on the stage she never dared to peep through the curtain while the house was filling. Many theatrical people constantly carry around with them for luck "the left hind foot of a graveyard rabbit killed by the light of the moon."

ERIE RAILROAD TRAINS REGULAR

The punctuality of passenger trains on the Eric railroad for the month of March indicated that the service is not only greatly improved over the past few years, but is now being maintained bet-ter than the average standard of roads of similar size.

The company has within the last 18 months or 2 years purchased over 60 Prairie type of passenger loomotives, which are among the largest and fastest in the country. The use of this class of power has enabled the company to keep its long and heavy trains on time better than ever before. Another feature of the passenger service of the line which is very gratifying to the management and patrons is the fact that there has not been a single fatal accident to a passenger on the Eric show that more than 70,000,000 have been carried without one of them

ROYALTY WRITES COOK BOOK.

Said to Contain a Recipe for Irish Stew That is Superior to All Others Known.

The announcement that Queen Alexandra and Lady Dudley are to co-operate in the writing of a cookery book should make all Anglo-Saxon housewives prepare their culinary departments for an attempt at some famous dishes. The queen is known to be an adept in the kitchen and she has a recipe for an Irish stew that should make every Irishman's mouth water when he reads it, or, better still, when the recipe takes practical shape, for him, in his good wife's culinary accomplishments. That reminds us that the stew is by no means a favorite dish In this country; the average housewife looks upon it as a family dish that absorbs resurrected products of bygone meals and is never intended for company. How different in Europe, where the chef has a thousand and one ways of concocting a stew, the very memory of which inclines one to stew is a despised and mostly rejected and choice portions, say, of the fowl, We may have to thank Queen Alexandra if we can see the introduction of a variety of stews such as we have tasted in Europe into our own house holds. With a fine relish, we say: "Oh, let it be soon!" In the matter of liquid compounds, there is the queen's famous concoction of sole gin and elderberry wine. What excitement in our kitchens a few weeks hence! The queen's determination to publish her recipes doubtless has been promoted house, and presenting said musket or by the success and popularity of her photograph albums, which now are

SENATOR WAS DOWN THE ROW

Governor of State Outranks the Representative in the Upper Branch of Congress.

Many people will be surprised to superstitious. I know of one great learn that a governor outranks a senator, according to the law of precedence

A few years ago the new senator from Vermont, Carroll S. Page, was crossing the Atlantic with the late Senator Redfield Proctor in the Cunard steamship Campania. They had, of course, seats at the captain's table. Senator then (Governor) Page was surprised to find himself occupying the post of honor, with Senator Proctor seated further down the table.

This the modest governor of the Green Mountain state thought was not quite correct and he remonstrated, explaining that there must be some error, as his friend was a United States senator and his superior in rank. He was told that a governor outranks a senator.-National Magazine.

Origin of America's Name,

It is a curious chance that America received its name from a German geographer. Old Prof. Waldseemueller made a mistake, indeed, when he named the new countries at Brazil after the Florentine Amerigo Vespucci. It would have been far more just to name the new world after Cod lumbus, but though Waldseemueller recognized his mistake and withdrew the name, it remained in use. And curiously enough, that Amerigo Vespucci whose name gave origin to the name of America, had himself, though Thus America is a continent with a German name, the meaning of which might, perhaps, be interpreted as "rich in corn;" if this is correct, Prof. Waldseemueller chose an incorrect but appropriate name,-Prof. Albrecht Penck, in Science.

Just Cause for Pride.

The man admired his wife just about as much as any man can admire a wife, nevertheless when he saw that she was devoting more and more time each day to mirror gazing he determined to take her down a peg. Said he, brutally:

"I wouldn't be so stuck on myself if I were you, just because people happen to notice you when you go out. It isn't you they're admiring; its your clothes. I heard a bunch of women say so the other day." For an instant the shock to the woman's vanity overpowered her, then, quickly recovering, she said: "In that case I am prouder than Nature is responsible for me, designed the clothes myself."

And then the man shut up.

Always Time for Courtesy. That there was always time for cour tesy was a law of life indeed with those rare and kindly spirits who belonged to the golden age of American life and literature, but in the storm and stress of modern life and money getting the situation is more as Whittler expressed it in his consideration of the spiritualism of his day: "I sometimes say with Shakespeare: 'O for some courteous ghost,' but nothing ever comes to me."-Vernon Murray.

Andrew Jackson was a marvel of precocity. He carried a flintlock musket, as a soldier of the revolutionary army, at the age of 14. At 23 he was appointed by Washington district at-torney of Tennessee. He was a United States senator at 30. He did not reach the presidency until he was 62.-Sunday Magazine.

BOMBS FOR "UNFAIR" FIRMS

Recently Remodeled Building in Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Blown to Pieces.

Chicago, Apr. 28. - The dynamite which was used in Chicago extensively last year supposedly by "unfavored" gamblers in pointing out their "favored" rivals to the authorities, has been adopted into the building industry as a weapon of destruction against "unfair" firms.

The fourth of a series of bomb explosions, which are attributed by the police to labor troubles, occurred last night. A recently remodeled frame dwelling in Jackson boulevard was wrecked. The building is occupied by machinery makers and was the scene of labor troubles during the process of its rebuilding.
